LICENSE AGREEMENT FOR SUPPORTED END OF LIFE TRAINING MATERIALS

Effective Date:

These training materials ("Materials") were created as part of the SUPPORTED research programme ("the Programme") carried out by the University of Hull ("the University") in partnership with Kings College London, the University of Sheffield and Bradford Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and funded by the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR). The Materials are provided by the University on behalf of the Programme and are made available at:

https://www.hyms.ac.uk/supported

By downloading or using the Materials, you ("the User") agree to and shall be bound by the following terms:

1.   License Grant

The University grants the User a non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable license to download, use, and distribute the Materials for personal, educational, or internal institutional purposes only.

2.   Non-Commercial Use

The User shall not use the Materials, or any derivative works thereof ("User Works"), for any commercial purpose where a fee is charged specifically for access to, or use of, the Materials or User Works. This includes, without limitation, (a) selling, sublicensing, or otherwise monetising the Materials or any User Works or, (b) charging fees for access to any course, platform, or service where such fees are directly attributable to the inclusion or use of the Materials or User Works. For the avoidance of doubt, the User may charge fees for other components of a course or service—such as trainer time, assessments, or supplementary materials—provided that no portion of the fee is allocated to, or contingent upon, access to the Materials or User Works.

3.   Reporting Requirements

Users who distribute or make substantial use of the Materials (e.g., in formal courses, training programs, or organisational settings) must submit an annual usage report to the University detailing (a) which Materials were used and how e.g., face-to-face, online and (b) audience or number of learners.

4.   Intellectual Property

4.1   All intellectual property rights in and to the Materials remain exclusively with the University (and relevant contributors). The User may not claim ownership, remove University or Programme branding, or represent the content as their own.

4.2   Nothing shall prevent the University from modifying, updating, or replacing the Materials at any time, including publishing revised versions or withdrawing outdated content.

5.   Modifications and Derivatives

The User is permitted to modify, adapt, translate, or create derivative works ("User Works") based on the Materials, provided that (a) the original source Materials are clearly and accurately attributed, (b) any modifications, adaptations, or additions are clearly identified and distinguishable from the original Materials, (c) all such User Works are governed by the same licence terms as the original Materials and remain freely accessible for educational purposes, and (d) ownership of the original Materials shall remain at all times with the University, and nothing in this clause shall be construed as transferring any intellectual property rights in the original Materials to the User..

6.   Disclaimer of Liability

The Materials are provided "as is" without warranties of any kind, either express or implied. The University does not warrant that the content is accurate, complete, current, or fit for any particular purpose. Under no circumstances shall the University or relevant contributors be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, or consequential damages arising from the use or misuse of the Materials. Additionally, the University disclaims all liability for any advice, interpretation, or guidance provided by the User based on or in connection with the Materials, including but not limited to content delivered through artificial intelligence (AI) systems or tools. The User is solely responsible for the accuracy, appropriateness, and consequences of any such content or advice shared with others.

7.   Termination

The University reserves the right to terminate this license at any time if the User breaches any of the terms outlined herein.

8. Governing Law

This license agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.